To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my interest in serving on the Judicial Nominating Committee. My accomplishments include: high school honors, collegiate scholarship athlete, Ronald E. McNair fellow, law school honor council, Board of Trustees for Ben F. Jones, Board of Trustees for Ronald McDonald House-Memphis, and the distinction of becoming the first African American to be hired and ascend to partnership at Harris Shelton Hanover Walsh, P.L.L.C. My personal background is one of being the son of Naomi Campbell, a single mother who nurtured three boys into becoming successful men, despite the calamities that befall most who would seek to rise out of the impoverished and gang infested neighborhoods that we once called home. My legal career over the past twelve years has allowed me to represent clients from all facets of the law, including but not limited to serving as a special prosecutor, pro bono criminal defender, corporate lawyer, divorce lawyer, municipal lawyer, discrimination lawyer, juvenile lawyer, medical malpractice defense lawyer and civil litigation plaintiff's lawyer. Therefore, the totality of my personal, educational and legal background, experience and training has uniquely qualified me to assist in selecting a judge who would exemplify the very essence of the law in Tennessee.

More specifically, I believe my diverse background, legal practice and passion for the betterment of our entire community would enable me to serve with total impartiality. Likewise, I believe the aforementioned qualities and traits would enable me to assist in the selection of a judge who would show an unwavering commitment to the proper and forceful application of the law; but with passion, integrity and temperament necessary to serve all citizens within his or her jurisdiction.
